

Saturday will be Doctor Fagan Day

Saturday is to be Doctor Gerald Fagan Day, in Wilmington. The local high school team is hosting Andover, in the football field, and the Andover - Wilmington was the favorite sports event of Dr. Fagan, each year. The game is to start at 1:30 p.m.

Doc Fagan did not miss a football game in over 30 years, and he was one of the all-time outstanding boosters of Wilmington's High School team. In his younger days he was one of the better athletes at his college, Villanova.

The program, for Saturday's game is to have a full page picture of Dr. Fagan. The Rev. Fr. Charles White, a life long friend of Dr. Fagan, is coming from his parish in Boston to be at the game, and it is hoped that Mrs. Fagan will be able to attend.

There is to be a brief period of silence, before the game begins, to honor Dr. Fagan. The arrangements for the program and for other items about Dr. Fagan have been made by the High School Athletic Boosters Association.

The latest on Alternate 129

The Wilmington Planning Board now has four plans, all dated October 14, showing the latest proposals for Alternate Route 129, which is planned to connect the new bridge near Rocco's to Interstate 93.

The proposed viaduct in Wilmington Square, reported last week, is now shown as being close to the railroad tracks. If it were to be constructed as shown it would pass 'behind' the VFW Hall, but would 'take' some of the buildings containing machine shops, etc. across from Wilmington Builders.

The viaduct plan is a part of what is called 'Alternate No. 15'. One knowing engineer, who has no part of the state DPW planning, called it 'the old Viaduct Trick'. 'Alternate No. 15' would have a widened Main Street and a widened Lowell Street, with two lanes of about sixty feet width and a 15 foot median street between them. A good part of the building housing Wallace Motors would disappear, if Alternate 15 were to be constructed.

'Alternate No. 6' and 'Alternate no. 6A' are basically what the Town Crier calls the Fred Cain Route. The main difference is in the way they approach the junction of Main and Lowell Streets, but in both cases there probably would be changes for the gas station in that junction. They both would have a grade crossing at Church Street, between the Post Office and the Fire Station. There would be a bridge over Clark Street and the Wildcat Railroad at the same time, and they would cross Washington Street at a point about halfway between Clark Street and Stone Street.

The fourth proposal, called Alternate No. 10, would keep away from Main Street and from Lowell Street, until it got near to the Route 93.

The crossings of Washington Street, Clark Street, etc. are proposed to be the same as the others. It seems there would be surface crossings of Middlesex Ave., Church Street, Parker Street, Molloy Road and Woburn Street, except that Molloy Road would be cut off, at about the middle. One house on this road would have to be moved, as would the Sullivan home, on Dartmouth Ave.

The Woburn Street crossing of Alternate No. 10 would be easterly of Perry Avenue, so that probably no home on Strout Avenue would be affected. After passing Strout Avenue the road would then swing towards the present Route 129.

In all four instances a four leaf clover is shown for the junction of Rts 129 and 93.

The plans were obtained by Roger Watkins, Planning Intern. The Town Crier was in error last week, when it called him Roger Worth.

Board of Water Commissioners

Jurors named

Six persons have had their names drawn for jury service in November, by the selectmen, in Cambridge, and two in Lowell. The drawing took place Tuesday evening.

Drawn for duty in Cambridge were: Robert Gamlin, Reading Ave.; Beverly Harvey, Parker St.; Lawrence Beatrice, Radcliffe Road; John E. Needham, Shawsheen Ave.; Charles W. Gilbert, Church Street and Goldie Gardner, 281 Main Street.

Drawn for duty in Lowell were Wilfred M. Barclay, 436 Middlesex Ave. and John P. Cushing, 3 Ring Ave.

Selectmen reject apology demand

The battle over the dogs at 20 Harnden Street, in the farmhouse once known as The Elms, took a new turn Tuesday evening, when a certified mail letter was read, in the selectmen's meeting, demanding a retraction and apology from the Chairman of the Selectman for statements made in the selectmen's meeting of September 13th.

The chairman, of course, is A. Daniel Gillis. The letter was from Susan S. Maire of Westwood, attorney for Alice Papaliolios, owner of the dogs at 20 Harnden Street.

On September 13th Mr. Gillis had said that the keeping of dogs at the old farmhouse was a "clear cut violation of the zoning by-law" and ordered that the unlicensed kennel be closed, with the words "shut her down".

Attorney Maire demanded that there be an immediate retraction and apology for these "defamatory allegations".

The selectmen, when they heard Gillis read the letter, spontaneously and simultaneously rallied to his side.

Among the statements made: Boylen - "this was the opinion of the board" and Miceli "unanimous feeling of the board".

Telephone Pole

In a separate and unrelated action, the same evening, the selectmen ordered the Town Manager to "clear out" a triangle of land, where Harnden Street meets Glen Road, and right next to the old farmhouse. George Boylen said he wanted to see "that pole" (a light pole, Ed) "moved out within a week".

The obscuring of vision by plants and shrubbery in the triangle has been rankling the selectmen for some weeks, but the immediate cause for the order seems to have been the accident of a week ago, in which a nine year old boy had both legs broken by an automobile.

There have been several complaints to the selectmen of obscured vision at that point.

The triangle of land was given to the town about 1915 by the late Christian Neilson, farmer, and former owner of The Elms.

Immediately after Mr. Boylen made his remark someone doubted that the town owned the land.

Banda: Now you are telling us we don't own the road.

Miceli: Take it down - bulldoze it.

Community Fund Goal $10,000 is within reach

The Wilmington Community Fund Walk-a-thon of Sept. 28 is now nearly three weeks past. It seems, Community Fund leaders say, that the goal of $10,000 will be reached.

A total of 618 walkers participated in the 12 mile hike. To date 120 have made their reports, have turned in their money. The sum realized is $1871.48, for 19% of the walkers.

Four hundred and ninety-eight walkers have not made their reports yet.

The goal, for completing the reports is the 24th of October, one week from Friday. If everyone has completed their report by that time, the $10,000 goal should be realized.

Returns are to be made to Wilmington Community Fund, Inc. Post office box 147.

DONALD CONLIN TO BE ARMORER SUPPLY SPECIALIST: Donald Conlin, son of Mr and Mrs Robert Conlin of Gunderson Road is at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, undergoing training, in the U.S. Army. He is to be assigned, later, to Fort Riley, Kansas, where he will have further training as an Armorer/Supply Specialist.

Public meeting regarding 129

A Public Meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. on Wednesday, October 29 at the Wilmington High School auditorium, for proposed improvements to Route 129. This meeting, the second in a continuing series, will be to inform the public on progress in the Route 129 study. A set of four alternatives has been selected for further study from an initial 17 potential alternatives, presented at the first public meeting held September 4. These alternatives include a "no-build," a widening of existing Route 129, and two bypass alternatives.

One bypass would run east of Wilmington Square behind Wilmington Plaza, from Richmond Street to approximately Cross Street. The second bypass would be a continuation of the first, north of, and parallel to, Lowell Street to the I-93 interchange.

Both bypass alternatives and the "widening" alternative would add additional ramps in the northwest and southeast quadrants of the Lowell Street/I-93 interchange.

The four alternatives will be presented by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works with preliminary plans and a discussion of progress to date. The public is encouraged to attend and actively participate in a discussion of the transportation improvements proposed.

A map with the four alternatives is on display at the Wilmington Public Library.

Patricia Jean Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gardner of 44 Clark St., Wilmington, became the bride of Robert F. Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzpatrick of 67 Green St., Woburn on July 19.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of polyester crepe, bodice of gown was voile with orange blossom appliques with a v neck. The A-line skirt swept into a train and the headpiece matched the bodice of the gown. She wore a floor length veil and carried a cascade bouquet of colored roses, carnations, and baby's breath. The bride fashioned her own gown.

Maid-of honor was Patricia Lowell of Wilmington, a close friend of the bride and serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Justine Pizzuti of N.H., also a friend of the bride; Eva and Dottie Gardner, both sisters of the bride, while Eileen Gardner, sister of the bride and Mamie Fitzpatrick, sister of the groom served as junior bridesmaids.

Americana Twirlers Review

The 'Americana Twirlers' were in the Lowell Regatta Parade, October 10 in which the theme was Bicentennial. Some of the girls marched in their very first parade as majorettes and did a wonderful job.

The instructor is very grateful to girl's parents who made a special effort to do last minute sewing and arranging for last minute investments.

This was the fifteenth group in the second division and there were eight divisions in the parade along with floats decorated with the Bicentennial theme.

When the Twirlers reached the disbanding area they remained to watch the parade.

Dean Clark: from folk to all around singing

by Betty Spahl

Dean Clark is a prime example of a singer who moves with the times. As he points out, "In show business the audience is your employer. You either sing what they want or you'll spend the rest of your life singing to shower tiles."

Like Aretha Franklin and many other pop entertainers, Clark first began singing in church, but the songs were more likely to be in Latin than in a southern drawl.

From a boy soprano in his hometown Catholic church choir in Toledo, Ohio, Clark has become an all around singer in nightclubs throughout the country.

His appearances at the Tewksbury Holiday Inn have earned him a large following in this area, and throughout most of the '70s six months have seldom passed without his appearing there at least twice.

Although many entertainers are born with expansive egos and a lot of push, Clark isn't one of them. "When I was a child I was scared to death by audiences, and it took me a long time to get over it," he admits.

Clark also isn't one of those entertainers with parents who made him live out their pipe dreams of becoming stars.

"Where I came from," he says, "music was sort of a sissy thing. My parents and teachers never pushed me into it."

After his family moved to "It's called 'I Always Come Back,' and is being released by Fleetwood Records in Revere," he reports. "I had a terrific time making it. They had 24 musicians backing me up, strings, horns, everything."

Dean Clark

Clark says he really enjoys working in this area. "I'll never forget the warmth of audiences here. I can't thank them enough," he admits.

During his most recent appearance in Tewksbury, Clark appeared with the High Rollers, a new group of young musicals each of whom is fine in his own right.

Gary DePalma of Stoneham is the leader of the group, and plays a Hammond organ with more than his share of versatility.

Peter Corleta of Burlington plays bass guitar, Vincent Puglisi of Stoneham is lead guitarist, Mike Edwards of Keene, N.H., plays fantastic drums and backs them up with a personality and sense of humor that has the audience not only rocking with the music, but rocking with laughter.

John Costanzo of Danvers is the group's lead singer, a polished entertainer with a strong voice.

Phoenix, Arizona, Clark went on from singing with his high school glee club to performing professionally with a folk group that toured the west, southwest and midwest during the early and mid '60s.

Straight folk music was a lot more commercial then, with artists such as Peter, Paul and Mary and Judy Collins turning out hit records in a stream.

But as the decade grew older, Clark saw folk singing start to take a back seat to rock and less esoteric forms of music. He left the group and began singing rock, show tunes, the latest hits and even country and western music.

He explains, "The music of today forces you to not grow old in the business. You can't be labled as doing one type of music. Show tunes, new music and the type of audience you get in night clubs today force you to be versatile."

That Clark moved with the times is probably best indicated by his contracts. In a business where being held over for a second week of work is a victory, he worked 56 straight weeks at Pat O'Brien's in New Orleans and earned a ream of contracts to sing at Holiday Inns throughout the country.

With his audiences expanding and his star rising higher in the unstable show business sky, Clark recently completed a record album now available throughout the country.

A letter from Nova Scotia

Philae Temple Trumpet Band

Secretary, 36 Milson Ave.
Halifax, Nova Scotia
October 6, 1975

Mr. Stu Neilson
Town Crier
364 Middlesex Ave.,
Wilmington, Mass. USA
Dear Mr. Neilson:

Forgive me for not replying earlier to thank you for your kind gift of those photos taken in Charlottetown, by your very competent photog.

Thank you also for sending us a copy of the Town Crier and for the very nice things said about our humble Trumpet Band which in no way can match the vigor and musicianship of the Wilmington Crusaders.

The citizens, directors, and parents of Wilmington can take great pride in this group of wonderful young people. By their deportment, discipline, appearance and musicianship in Charlottetown they won the hearts of all who saw and met them.

After my recent retirement after a lifelong career in the newspaper advertising field (ad manager of the Halifax Herald, circ. 117,000 daily and the Toronto Daily Star) I always welcome a word with others in the profession. Perhaps, someday, I hope, we can meet. In our forthcoming issue of our Temple's publication "The Fez" I intend to put in an item about the Crusaders, and acknowledge the pictures which will be reproduced in our band's concert program of our November show.

Our sincere thanks to you and your photographs, and to the Crusaders. I intend to tell local authorities in charge of celebrations and events in Nova Scotia about "The Crusaders" in the hope of giving our citizens an opportunity of seeing what can be developed today in youth education through music. Again, our thanks.

Sincerely
Philae Temple Trumpet Band
Walter L.C. Browne, Sec'y

PS Please send me the name of that New Brunswick restaurant, if you wish. If you want me to, I shall gladly report this sort of "rip-off" to the Minister of Tourism, Province of New Brunswick. WB.3

The reader is referred to the August 21 issue of the Town Crier for an account of the Crusaders and the Philae Temple Trumpet Band, in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Brown's sentiments undoubtedly will be appreciated by the people of the Crusaders, but it must be said that the usual end-of-the season has had the usual effect of attrition in the ranks. Young people are in school, or other places, and a new recruiting effort is now taking place.

There has been attrition, too, among the adults who worked for the kids this summer. The Town Crier does not know how much, but some are now with other corps.

To name one who will be missed. Pat Mulkern, manager, who was always to be seen lending a helping hand in the corps, and who did so much, is no longer a part of the Crusaders. The Town Crier does not know what she is doing.

Others who are no longer with the Crusaders are George and Alice Hooper. George exercised his genius and talents toward the organization of that trip to Prince Edward Island.

Stu Neilson, who was the photographer at Charlottetown, has left the Town Crier, and with his family is now headed for the more salubrious climate of New Mexico.

Thomas A. Cady at College Night

Thomas A. Cady, director of admissions, represented Andover Junior College on October 15 at the St. John's Prep "College Night" in Danvers.

The evening began at 6:30 p.m. and was open to all high school students in the North Shore and Merrimack Valley regions.

Peter Holtzmeister addressed Merrimack Valley Selectmen's Assn.

The Merrimack Valley Selectmen's Association held its regular meeting on October 9 at the Northern Middlesex Area Commission offices in Lowell. Featured speakers for the evening included Peter Holtzmeister, assistant town manager of Wilmington; Judge Elliott Cowdrey, Lowell District Court; and Joseph Hannon, NMAC Director.

Earl Van Amburg service manager, Hurlbert Buick

Paul Hurlbert, owner of Hurlbert Buick-Open in Lexington, recently announced the appointment of Earl C. Van Amburg as Service Manager of the dealership. "Mr. Van Amburg has been in the automobile business for over 30 years," said Mr. Hurlbert, "and he brings a wide range of experience and skills to this agency."

Prior to assuming his new duties at Hurlbert Buick-Open, Mr. Van Amburg was Service Manager at Hurlbert Datsun-Peugeot in Reading. Before that he was service manager at Suburban Dodge in Natick and spent 21 years at the Russell Burnett Ford dealership in Somerville where he began as a mechanic and eventually became the agency's service manager.

In addition to having completed numerous service training programs, Mr. Van Amburg is also a graduate of the Ford Motor Marketing Institute and the Northwood Institute. He is also President of the Datsun Minuteman Parts and Service Managers' Club.

Mr. Van Amburg lives in Burlington with his wife, Elvira, and their two children.

Mr. Holtzmeister explained the growth of the town manager form of government from 1914 with zero to today with some 2700 communities under professional management. Currently some 30 Massachusetts communities operate under town manager supervision. As advantages of town manager government, Mr. Holtzmeister listed accountability, continuity and serious attention to the complex administrative and legal issues facing a community with collective bargaining, purchasing, CETA, affirmative action, Civil Service, community development and regional agreements.

he also cited the multi-state experience of many of the managers in Massachusetts.

Judge Cowdrey explained the operation of his court and provided some statistics on the case load.

Joseph Hannon explained the operation of NMAC and his philosophy that planning should be locally based.

The next meeting of the association will be held December 11 at NMAC with the main subject to be collective purchasing.

Face Andover Saturday Moran, defense spark Wildcats 26-14

Senior back Jack Moran raced 97 yards and scored touchdowns of one and two yards to give Wilmington a 26-14 win over Austin Prep. Moran, along with the tough Wildcat defense enabled Coach Bellissimo's blue to remain unbeaten (3-0-1) after four weeks of play.

Wilmington struck first, in the opening period after a poor Austin Punt put the ball on the Prep 36. Eight plays later Moran capped the drive with a two yard plunge on fourth down.

Austin wasted no time in coming back. Quarterback Chuck Gaudet ran 60 yards to paydirt and tossed the two point conversion for an 8-6 lead.

Late in the half the Cougars picked up a Moran fumble at the Wilmington 12. Faced with third and fourth and inches to go at the three, the Cougars couldn't bend the Wildcat defense and on the next play Moran bolted 97 yards for the score. Jim Stewart rushed for two and Wilmington lead at the half 14-8.

After a scoreless third stanza Moran opened the final period diving in from the one for his third touchdown.

The defense set up the final Wilmington score as they sacked Gaudet with fourth and long at the Austin 42, a play later Mark Esposito swept right for a 36 yard score. The Cougars scored on a Gaudet sneak with 10 seconds left after controlling the ball for the balance of the quarter.

Jack Moran finished the day with 131 yards in 12 carries, Jack also received an honorable mention in the Globe's Schoolboy Star of the Week. Gordie Fitch looked good in his return six carries for 36 yards. All told, Wilmington racked up 258 yards on the ground to only 16 in the air. Quarterback Jim Stewart was one for four and suffered two interceptions.

Saturday Coach Dick Collins' Division II champs from Andover invade Wilmington at 1:30 p.m.

Three years ago Wilmington knocked off Andover 33-28 to win the 1972 championship. Andover hasn't lost since (31 wins) in a row, plus two championships. The past three years the games have been close and all have been decided on blocked punts either setting up or scoring a touchdown in the final quarter. Saturday will mark the first time in 11 years Wilmington hasn't opened against Andover. It should be interesting.

Donkeys to invade high school gym

What has four hooves, two basketball sneakers, and dribbles?

Wilmington High School will have 10 creatures fitting that description on Tuesday night when the Junior Class meets the faculty in a donkey-basketball game.

The creators with hooves and sneakers, of course, are basketball players riding donkeys. They'll all be playing to benefit the Junior Class treasury.

The fun begins at 7:30 p.m. on October 21 in the high school gymnasium. Tickets are $1 for students, $1.50 for adults.

SACK THE QUARTERBACK was the name of the game Saturday, with Wilmington winning 26-14. Austin QB Chuck Gaudet was repeatedly the victim of a strong Wilmington defense.

MVC predictions

Andover tests tough Wildcats

This week in the MVC sees what could be the breaking up of a real log jam between the top teams. Unbeaten and awesome Andover (31 consecutive wins) will journey to the less-than-friendly confines of Wilmington High School field to give the unbeaten Wildcats a real test.

A win by Andover could for all intents and purposes leave the rest of the conference teams free to battle for second place. If the Wildcats win look for a race in the MVC between Andover, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Lawrence Central and Wilmington for that top spot.

A Wilmington upset would definitely make for a fantastic fall of area football. Tewksbury comes off the Andover steamroller to host burly, yet sputtering Chelmsford. The Lions are a better football team than they have shown so far. The MVC "pick em" record so far is seven right, one wrong and one tie.

Andover at Wilmington...Most of the area teams have to be rooting for Wilmington - for a Wildcat win would definitely lend more balance to the MVC situation. If Wilmington wins they are alone in first place. Both teams are coming off solid wins. Wilmington must stop the Andover passing attack if they hope to pull the upset. No MVC team has come close to stopping the Golden Warriors' "running shute."

Jack Moran is the key Wildcat runner as the big fullback has done well all year. Andover has not had a tough game yet - winning 36-0, 36-6, 43-6, and 30-6. This may be a tough one, but it will take a tremendous Wildcat effort. Andover by 17 points.

Chelmsford at Tewksbury...You hate to pick against Tewksbury at home, but the Lions are due for a big win. Again a boring offense seems to be holding a Chelmsford team back. They have the best fullback in the league in John Baraldi, a fine running quarterback with Jeff Hoffman at the controls and a stellar offensive line for them to run behind. The Lions are no Billerica, or Lawrence - so the Redmen face a good test at home.

The Lions may have someone equal in size to give Mark Stephens a test - that is an important factor. Tewksbury must bolster their passing attack in this game - a lack of one against Chelmsford will hurt. A tough game - perhaps the best battle of the year at the Center School field in Tewksbury. Chelmsford by six points.

Billerica at Methuen...Both teams haven't won - both are pretty woeful outfits. If Methuen loses it could be another 0-10 season for them. The Rangers did play decently against Chelmsford for a half - so they may be picking up a bit. The Indians of Billerica are small and are pretty well beaten up due to their lack of size.

Let's pick Methuen in a minor upset. The Rangers by six points.

Dracut at Lawrence...The Middies seem to be picking up steam as the season goes along, as hapless Lawrence looks doomed to a season of high mediocrity. The gold-clad Middies of Dracut will prevail by 14 points.

Wilmington Youth Hockey

The Mite A's: Tied division leading Winthrop Monday night in a fast moving, exciting game. Wilmington scored first in the second period. Kenny Richter scored the goal on a well placed pass from David Fuller.

Winthrop answered with a quick goal. Hard hitting and good offensive work by Ralph Newhouse, David Richards, Billy Woods, Robbie Palmer, David Lux, Scott Poole and David Buzzell kept the pressure on Winthrop for the remaining seconds of the second period.

During the third period defensemen Tom Craig, Robby Walden, Danny Kane, Donny Costantino and David Needham prevented Winthrop from scoring. Goalie Brian Surette turned away 15 Winthrop shots with some timely saves. The game ended in a 1-1 tie.

Squirt A (3-1-0) Oct. 5...The A's lost a close contest to Wakefield by the score of 3-2. After jumping to a quick two goal lead in period one on two goals by Kevin Smith with Jim Smith, Paul Brady and John Palmer providing assists, the A's watched as Wakefield chipped away and scored once in each period to put the game away.

Kevin Smith tried to tie it up as he slid the puck home, but the buzzer sounded as the puck touched the red line.

Oct. 12...The Squirt A's bounced back this pas Sunday as they shellacked Somerville 6 - 1. Outshooting the opposition 29-8. Ray Durling tucked in the first goal at 5:19 of period onw assisted by Robbie O'Connell. The game remained scoreless during the second period as the Somerville Bantam A...Wilmington broke into the win column with a bang last Thursday by exploding for seven goals in the third period voer South Boston. Final score was Wilmington 10, South Boston 4.

South Boston scored in the very first minute of play, but less than a minute later, Dennis Foley tied it up with assists to Billy McCann and Dana Kidd. In the second period Wilmington went ahead on a score from Billy McCann with assists to Kidd and Foley.

Less than a minute later South Boston tied it up again, but midway through the period Steve Mickel broke the tie with the assist to Matt Kmon. Leading by a slim 3 - 2, the Wilmington team scored seven times in the final period.

Dave Ballou, Tilly McCann scored on a feed from Dana Kidd. A minute later Billy McCann scored again from Kidd.

Rich Robinson scored with an assist to Brian Bulger, Steve Mickle picked up his second goal with assists to Ballou and Kmon. Foley drove one by the goalie for goalie was outstanding against all the shots.

John Robson started off the third period nearly be-heading the Somerville goalie with a wicked blast from about 15 feet out for the eventual game winner with assists from Jim and Kevin Smith.

somerville attempted to come-back for their only goal, but then the roof fell in. Bob Curran got the first of four goals, assisted by John Palmer, scored in two minutes and three seconds. Ed Harding then proceeded to score a perfect hat trick, three goals on the same shift, in one period, in 50 seconds, with two assists to John LaLiberte, and one to Paul Brady. All three forward lines contributed to the effort and the four defensemen, Palmer, Brady, Allard and Cullivan were superb as they allowed only eight shots on goalie Laquidara. Eddie, as reported earlier is trying to maintain his below 2.0 goal-against average, and this year's contribution is certainly helping - four games 1.33.

The penalty killing was again superb as Jeff Brown and Ed Harding played three on five for two minutes near the end of period number two and didn't allow one shot on goal. These two boys have killed nearly every penalty in 14 consecutive games without allowing a single goal.

Pee Wee B (4-0-0)...The Wilmington Pee Wee B's continued their unbeaten streak with a 10 - 1 win over Tyngsboro. The first period was fairly even with a fine defensive play by goal tender Bill Redler, who stopped a one on one situation that kept the period scoreless.

Wilmington, paced by the Moran his second goal with assists to McCann and Kidd. Brian Bulger picked up his first goal of the year with the assist to Timmy McCann.

The next game will be played against Beverly Farms today (Oct. 16) at 10 p.m.

Another win for WHS field hockey

Wilmington's girls field hockey team has won two more games and tied one.

Last Wednesday's encounter against Tewksbury ended in a 4-1 victory for the female Wildcats. The scoring was done by Sheila Burns with three goals (hat trick) and one goal was blasted between the posts by Barb Moulton. Both girls are members of the junior class.

The game played at Andover last Friday was also a Wildcat triumph ending in a 2 - 0 shutout for goalie Anne Gagnon. Scoring came late in the second half off the stick of Eileen O'Rourke and junior Sheila Burns.

brothers' five goals dominated from then on. Ted Moran scored the hat trick while Mike popped two by the Tyngsboro net minder. The scoring otherwise was split among 11 of the 13 players.

The B's take on last year's State Squirt champions from Winthrop next Saturday, October 18 at 10:30 a.m.

Pee Wee A (3-2-0)...On October 8, the A's came up on the short end of a 7-2 game against Reading. At 0:44 of period one, Mark Boudreau scored, assisted by Keith Ford, making it 2 - 1 Reading. Then Frank DeVita scored at 0:16 of period two assisted by Bob Lowney making it 4 - 2 Reading.

Then put in three more in the third period 7 - 2 was the final score. Jeff Lux performed well in the nets, however, the A's were outshot 35 - 17 and Jeff couldn't stop them all.

Oct. 12: The A's took on a stubborn Nashua team, winning 3 - 0. Except for an outstanding performance by Nashua's goalie, the score would have been much higher. The first goal came in period two on a deflection by Mike Stokes, assisted by Keith Ford and Mark Boudreau. The second goal was scored by Keith Ford assisted by Bob Lowney and Boudreau.

The third goal by Boudreau, unassisted was a super effort that Mark put in from Nashua's crease, following an individual rush. Stretch Storer, who just recuperated from the big did an excellent job, turning aside all 16 shots. The A's had 29 shots on Nashua.

Dolphins remain unbeaten

The Dolphins combined a tough defense with a high powered offense to dump the rugged Trojans 18 - 8 last Saturday in C team Pop Warner football action.

The Dolphins got the quick jump on the losers when G. Boudreau recovered a Trojan fumble on the opening kickoff. Two plays later it was S. Kelley sweeping for the initial Dolphin score from 24 yards out.

The tough Trojan defense didn't let down however as the pair of Magliano and Fraser sacked the Dolphins for a 28 yard loss, forcing a key punting situation. The Trojans, behind some fine blocking, marched down the field to go ahead for the only time in the game. Chuck Peabody banged the score from one yard and notched the two point conversion attempt as well to give the battling Trojans an 8 - 6 edge.

The Dolphins came right back at the close of the first half to lead 12 - 8 as E. Olshaw ran the pigskin over from three yards out. The second half saw the Trojan offense being bogged down by the steady pursuit of the Dolphin defenders. The Dolphins just banged away at the Trojan middle with the relentless attack resulting in an S. Kelley six yard score.

The Dolphins' offensive punch was provided by Boudreau, Kelley, and Olshaw behind the super blocks of teammates B. Casey, S. Neill, and the remainder of the defensive line.

Defensive standouts were T. Quinn, C. Peabody, and L. Fraser for the Trojans.

The Dolphin defensive keys were N. DeFelice, T. Sanville, T. Caper-ci, W. Gangi, K. Mace, and E. Olshaw. The Dolphins remain the only unbeaten and untied team thanks to the hard work of the youngsters and the fine coaching job turned in by Angelo Cuzzo and Jimmy Bossi.

Tacks tie Recs in ice clash

Sunday, October 12...Tewksbury scored a power play goal with only 1:48 left to play and salvaged a 2-2 draw with Wilmington in their initial MVGHL meeting this season. Tina Coffin's drive from the blue line came while the Recs were short handed.

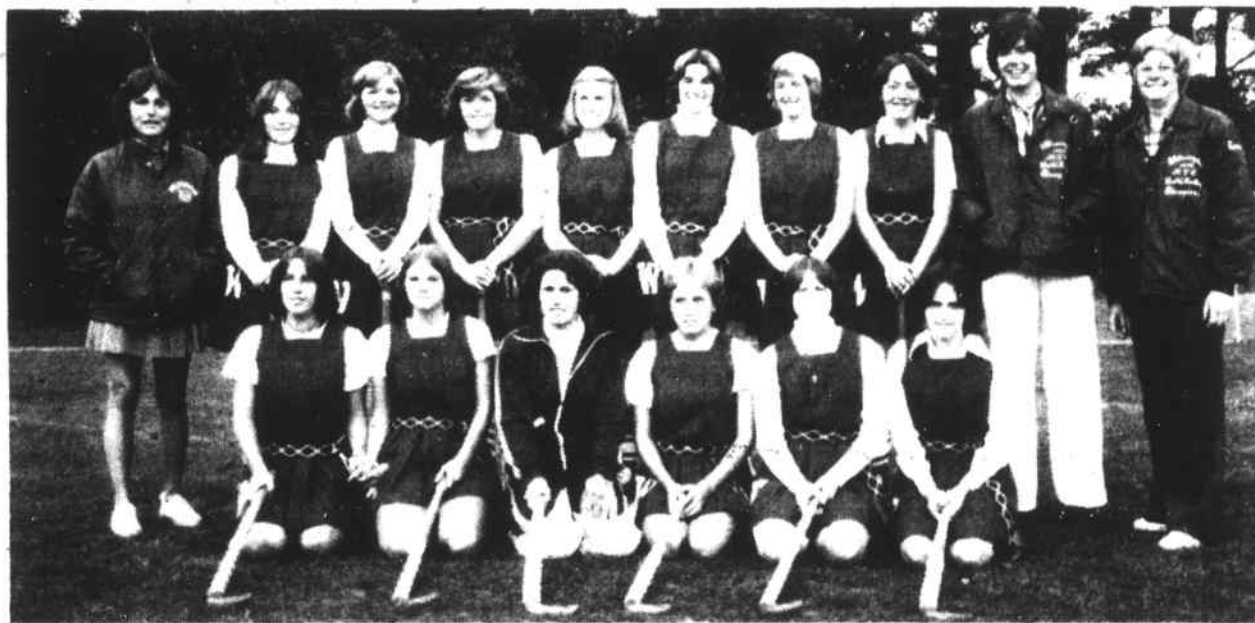

Wilmington jumped out on top at 4:43 of the opening frame on the strength of defense person Janet Zambarnardi's sole effort, while the Recs were killing off a penalty.

Cindy Buckley knotted the score at 1 - 1 early in the middle frame, beating RECs goalie Cathy Bristol midst a goal mouth scramble.

The Recs went back on top, 2 - 1 at 9:10 of the middle frame as Laura Miller flipped home a Kim Wandell rebound past Tacks goalie Patty Barlow. The Recs leading scorer, Cheryl Cushing picked up an assist on the go-ahead goal. However, Tewksbury kept forcing the play in the sloppily played encounter, and when another Wilmington penalty was called late in the contest, Coach Doherty's club made good on the advantage.

In other league action at Skate 3, Shawsheen upset Chelmsford, 3-2. Hudson belted Andover, 7-0 and Nashua topped Haverhill, 3-1. Both area clubs return to action on Sunday, October 10th with the Recs facing off against Hudson at 3:40 p.m. followed by the Tacks-Nashua game at 4:50 p.m.

Bits & Pieces

Could you?

We know you're all volunteers, and you're doing a good job too, but the Town Crier would like, if possible, first names rather than just initials in news items.
Somehow it's "friendlier" when the whole name is mentioned.

On the job again

Following a bout with illness which lasted approximately three months, Bob Butters of Middlesex Ave., long-time Wilmington mailman returned to work recently.

Bob spent a good portion of the summer at St. John's Hospital where he underwent surgery, but is now feeling fine again. According to one resident on Bob's route, his temporary replacement was "entirely satisfactory," but there's nothing like the service of a long-term and trusted worker."

The Boston & Maine Railroad Bridges

The sentiment among the selectmen, as revealed Tuesday evening, is that Wilmington should keep the old Shawsheen Avenue Bridge, and the Old Bridge Lane Bridge, even though there is now a new bridge across the railroad.

Town Manager Sterling Morris told the selectmen that the B & M would like to tear down the present structures, and let the town erect its own footbridges, using the present foundations.

Selectman Banda said that would "cost a lot of money - perhaps a dollar on the tax rate."

Banda felt that the present situation at the old Shawsheen Avenue Bridge was desirable. Put up a fence, so cars can't go over.

He pointed out the bridge near the Harvard Stadium, and said that the B & M wanted something like that - "That's the way they want to build cost a lot of money."

Wednesday, October 15 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., the Wilmington
Memorial Library's conference room will hum with activity as October's Program of the Month gets underway for children seven and up. Ms. Joyce Drew will teach youngsters to make moveable, jointed puppets known as marionettes from ordinary household materials.

using only newspaper and string, children can easily make these fascinating and clever puppets, which will give them hours of fun at home.

Later, older youngsters may want to add realistic details to the basic form, using paints, simple costuming and even by rounding out the cylinder shapes with papier mache. Older brothers and sisters
- even parents will want to learn to make these simple puppets for rainy or sick day entertainment - fun for all ages.

Governor signed Andersen bill

The bill to permit Robert J. Andersen of School Street, Wilmington to take an examination to become a police officer of Wilmington has been signed by Governor Dukakis. Bits & Pieces

Crispo's home
A visit to the Vatican and Pope Paul was among the highlights of a recent tour of Italy made by Mrs. Ernest Crispo, Anne and Dennis Crispo of Hopkins St., Wilmington. also included in the trip was a visit to the Arch of Constantine at Naples; the Isle of Capri; the city of Florence where much of Europe's gold and leather are produced and "beautiful" Serento. The Crispo's arrived home last weekend.

Leo Houle is home
Leo Houle of Agostino Drive, Wilmington returned home on Friday from Winchester Hospital where he had been confined following surgery. The Houle's moved here from Reading approximately a year ago and like Wilmington very much. They purchased the first home constructed on their street. Now there are 40 houses there. Perhaps as a "welcome home" present, the highway department erected the street sign on Agostino Drive on Friday.

Compugraphic in France
Compugraphic Corp. of Industrial Way, Wilmington has recently announced the establishment of a wholly owned French marketing subsidiary to be known as Compugraphic France et Compagnie. The company started its business operation October 1, and is located in the town of Le Plessis-Robinson, just 15 miles south of Paris. Six thousand square feet of office space have been leased in a large, modern office complex known as La Boursidiere. Employee of the month
Analog Devices Employee of the Month for September is Paul Ruggiero, supervisor of the mask making department. Mr. Ruggiero was awarded a $100 check and an inscribed plaque.

Ainsworth Road to be completed?

Ainsworth Road may possibly be completed, by the Betterment Act. The former railway bed of the Salem & Lowell Railroad bed, in North Wilmington was accepted as a road by the town 15 years ago, only to fall victim of mismanagement, and many subsequent legal complications and battles. Tuesday evening the selectmen discussed it, briefly. Robert Corey, Lowell businessman, who owns land off Ainsworth Road, was said to be willing to give enough land to make the road sixty feet wide, and to be willing to participate in Betterments, to pay for the road. Selectman Miceli, in discussing the proposal, said that it further stated that the Jensen family should be exempt. (That family has been paying, for 15 years, water main betterments, for a water main which is of no use to the family, Ed.) Other selectmen seemed to not agree with Mr. Miceli, but there was no more conversation on the subject. The proposal will probably come up for discussion at another meeting.

Wallace reports on Crusader trip to PEI

Roy Wallace, former Wilmington resident, and until recently the president of the Executive Board of the Wilmington Crusaders has submitted a report showing that all expenses were paid, on the trip in August, to Prince Edward Island, and that the balance is now zero. Every cent used to provide for the youngsters, on the trip, or on a subsequent outing to Canobie Lake, in New Hampshire.

Wallace has extended his thanks to the people of Wilmington and other communities, and to the businessmen of Wilmington who contributed. It was because of the very substantial contributions, he says, that the trip was a success. "Not only did our kids fall in love with Prince Edward Island, but the people there fell in love with our boys and girls. The Queen, herself, could not have been treated better."

Co Operative Cops

Wilmington police have had some fun, in the past few days, co-operating with police of other towns in incidents that could be called bizarre.

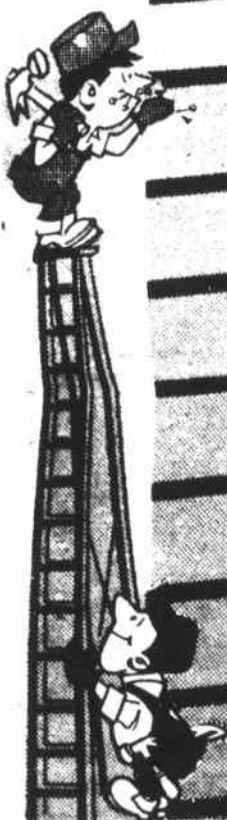

On Monday there was the case of the Head-On Collision of two motorcycles. It took place in an empty and abandoned gravel pit, on the Wilmington-North Reading line, and it took quite a search for the police to find the two victims of the accident.

How two youths can manage to have a head-on collision of motorcycles out in the expanses of an old gravel pit, was not explained, but an ambulance was needed to take them to the hospital, so they were not just fooling. The accident, it turned out, was in North Reading.

Later there was the case of the Wandering Pig. This was on the Wilmington - Burlington line, and occupied the time of policemen from both towns. The pig was wandering around, and didn't particularly care for the company of either Wilmington or Burlington police. He was eventually captured in Burlington. Then, on Wednesday, there was the motorcyclist on the Wilmington - Billerica line. Police of both towns were sent to search the woods for a youth who was reported to be injured. It took nearly half an hour to find him - in Billerica, and he was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn.

Later the Billerica police cruiser had to be sent back to the hospital, to advise the accident victim of his legal rights. The motorcycle, according to report, was stolen.

New books at Wilmington Library

Make Today Count, by Orville E. Kelly. This is the story of Orville Kelly, the small town Iowa newspaperman who lost his world in June 1973, when he learned he had incurable cancer, and regained his world in January 1974 when he started the "Make Today Count" an organization for the terminally ill.

The Wilderness Life, by Calvin Rutstrum. The tenth and most personal of Calvin Rutstrum's highly acclaimed books. The Wilderness Life will delight, inspire and encourage anyone who has ever longed to retreat to nature.

Steam Locomotives, by F. George Kay. This book follows the development of the steam locomotive from the lumbering machines of pioneers like Trevithick and Blenkinsop to the severe beauty of the Gresley A4 Pacifics; 32 illustrated in color; 109 in black and white.

How to beat the Employment Game, by David Noer. The author, a long time professional recruiter tells you the real motives behind job openings announcements, the blind ads, salary survey ads and a wide variety of no hire ads.

The Last Valley, by A.B. Guthrie, Jr. This epic western is divided into three parts. Each has its climatic scene - an open fight with the super-patriots; a terrifying encounter with a grizzly bear, and an unprecedented flood that drives the townspeople to the hills.

The Long Summer, by Alan White. Private Tom Wilkins had no responsibility for anything nor anyone. Now that has all changed. He finds himself on D day going into the beach and he suddenly sees a purpose for the long summer preparing for war. He also assumes a new sense of responsibility to himself and companions. Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde and other stories, by Robert Lewis Stevenson. A collection of some of the most adventuresome and macabre tales by one of the greatest storytellers of all time. There are 13 stories in all.

Better than a loss
The game ended in a tie, and the reception following was fantastic. The John Reid's of Lang St., Wilmington traveled to Fordham University last weekend to watch their son, starting defensive tackle Bob Reid play his position to the fullest against Seton Hall (N.Y.).

According to the Reid's, watching their favorite football star's game play to a tie was most gratifying, and parents were treated "like royalty" at the reception held in the mess hall at Fordham following the game.

Bob's parents, Dorothy and John Reid were accompanied on their trip by sons John and David and daughters Karen and Janet.

Celebrate 25th

October 8th marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Jean and William Hill of Lloyd Rd., and on Saturday evening a gala celebration was held in their honor. The party, held at the home of Mrs.

Joanne Nicoll of Lake St., saw Mrs. Claire Crowley of Florence Ave., Tewksbury acting as co-hostess. Both ladies said the affair was "more or less a family operation."

Mrs. Pat Hill of Main St., Tewksbury made and decorated the lovely silver anniversary cake which formed the centerpiece of the serving table.

Among the more than 40 guests present were the couple's best man and maid-of honor, Bertram Hill of Cambridge and Marie (Hill) Melanson of Stoneham.

The honored couple's son Bruce, also of Lloyd Rd., was on hand for the festivities and followed the best man's remarks about Mr. and Mrs. William Hill with a few complimentary ones of his own about his parents.

Included in the many lovely gifts was an engraved commemorative silver anniversary plaque; a gift from family members.

Midge hospitalized
Midge Lucci (Mrs. John) of Lawrence St., Wilmington is expected home soon from Winchester Hospital where she recently underwent surgery.

Successful fair

Members of Wilmington's Golden Age Club have reported that their annual Harvest Fair, held on Thursday, October 9 at K of C Hall was "the best yet."

Among the prize winners were: Doris Cady of Church St. who was awarded a lovely handmade afghan; Frances Gamlin of Reading Ave., who won a large basket of fruit; Joe McElaney of Grove Ave., who went home with the jug of wine; Timmy O'Rourke of Marion St. was presented a beautifully decorated cake and Joan O'Bierne of Hillside Way won a lovely broomstick lace stole.

He wants to plant Christmas trees

Lee Chisholm owns land off Andover Street, on the shores of Fosters Pond. His son, of the same name, is a landscape architect, who wants to plant Christmas trees on that land.

The two men, father and son, have appeared before the selectmen seeking to remove gravel, in order to get level ground for their proposed plantings. They have not been successful. On one hearing the selectmen voted three to two to deny the permit. Selectmen in Wilmington may be described as suspicious creatures, when it comes to plans for the removal of gravel.

Mr. Chisholm, Senior, appeared before the selectmen Tuesday night. He had with him Attorney Jim Killam of Melrose. He wanted an informal discussion.

Chisholm informed the selectmen that he had been removing gravel and piling it up, and had planted 1,000 Christmas trees. He plans to plant Scotch Pine, White Spruce, and Douglas Fir, rotating the planting as necessary. At the present time he has 25 thousand yards of gravel piled up, and he wanted to move it, to get room for next year's planting.

Aldo Caira and George Boylen favored giving him a permit to move the gravel, because he was showing an enterprise in the planting of trees.

Mr. Gills, Jim Miceli and Jim Banda were not in favor. Chisholm said he would ask for a formal hearing, on November 10th.

High School breaks and other incidents

One incident of the selectmen's meeting Tuesday evening was a discussion of incidents which are said to take place near Wilmington High School in the wee small hours of the morning.

A near neighbor to the school told the selectmen that there are breaks at 2:30 a.m., and that every night there are from 40 to 58 cars parked near the school, and racing around it. The racing, he said, frequently does not start until about midnight, sometimes even later than that.

Selectman George Boylen thought that perhaps the thing to do was to put a policeman on foot patrol, near the school, for a few nights. That had been done at the North Wilmington parking lot and other places in North Wilmington, he said, and it had "worked wonders."

The man who was telling of the troubles thought it would be better to put a few floodlights behind the school. The persons who were causing the troubles, he said, wouldn't like to go in front of a flood light. Flood lights, he said, wouldn't cost much over $20.

Mr. Boylen discussed places for the young people to park. They cannot go to North Wilmington, he said. The cannot go to "flowers," which was sort of adjunct to the cemetery, but entered from Federal Street, because now the Highway Department has a fence across the entrance. The young people, Boylen said, should have a place where they can go.

No one commented on Boylen's remarks.

The visitor remarked that this was the third place he had gone to, and no results. He was asked where the other places were, and he named the School Committee and the Police.

This evoked some interest. The School Committee?? Maybe the Chief of Police.

The visitor said he really did not get a "run around" from the police, and the Chief treated him nicely. He named a school committee member and said he "didn't get far."

The School Committeeman said it was up to the Selectmen. The Chief said it was not a "free public way" after 11 p.m. So the selectmen were told.

LETTER

Dear Larz:

Cleansing the American society of violence is a long delayed objective that deserves urgent attention in our national priorities. Violence with guns is the most destructive form of violence and the most likely to result in death. Strict gun control is not the only answer to violence in America, but is clearly indispensable to the answer that urgently must be found.

We must reaffirm a commitment to work for strict gun control as the primary function essential for a safer America. It is urged that effective controls be sought at a national level, reinforced at state and local levels, over the possession, acquisition and transfer of all usable guns and ammunition.

special priorities must be assigned to the transfer of hand guns, which are the firearms most used in crime. Without strict controls we can only look forward to wanton killings, armed robbery and further decadence in our country.
